UNFAIR TAXATION

I had a short talk the other afternoon with one of the best informed, most solid sensible businessmen in the Fruit Belt. man who knows all the answers; whose head is never in the clouds and whose feet are alway solidly planted on terra firma.

In the course of our discussion, came to the forefront, particiularly Dominio government taxes. And he remarked, "Why should you and I and thousands of other people be paying sales tax of eight per cent on necessities of life, such as Hydro, Natural Gas, Telephones, Coal, Oil and other heating substances, and many other necessities, and yet, such luxuries, such foolish luxuries, as Juke Boxes go untaxed. And if you figure it out the Juke Box is making a bigger margin of profit, for the amount of money invested. for both the man who controls the distribution of the disturber of peace and the man in whose place of business it operates, than any public utility is making, yet they supply the necessities of life."

There is no man in Canada who has had and still has a higher regard for ex-Finance Minister Illsley than I have, but now that the matter has been brought to my attention, cannot understand how he ever overlooked this fertile field of taxation. I feel sure that if I, or somebody else had waked up and tipped him off to the situation that he sure would have slapped a tax on these nuisance heat my home with gas, supplied by the Grimsby Natural Gas Co. I have no kick on my gas bills, but after this gentleman spoke to me, I checked my bills, I find that paid in the month of December $1.42 Sales Tax. That on a necessity. Without that gas Ma and I would have frozen to death and if we had broken up the furniture and lighted a fire on the living room floor we would still have starved to death because there was no gas in the kitchen stove.

When our government, and I am sorry to say. Mr. Ills ley, puts an eight percent sales then lets run wild such things as Juke Boxes. without tax, there must be something wrong.

"ETERNAL VIGILANCE"

One of the finest evidences of tolerance, and it is seldom seen elsewhere in Canada, was the appearance of Hon. J. J. Bench, Lincoln Senator, before the First United Church Men's Club, of St. Catharines. There will be many thoughtful, patriotic Canadians who will subscribe to the opinion that the appearance of Senator Bench before a church body of young men, not in alignment with his own faith, is rather a more important event than what the Senator had to say. And yet there is no almount of the things he had to say. We paganism which exudes from Mascow.

Senator Bench attacked Communism as an "evil disease aimed at the very fundamenof our manner of life." Of course, he was right, ..... it is a very notable thing, too, that he commended Premier Drew of Ontario for his courage in combatting the disease. This commendation from a Liberal appointed Senator for an Ontario Conservative Premier just shows the progress we have been making in recent years toward tolerance and good fellowship, among all religions and parties.

In his excoriation of Marxism, Leninism and all the rest of the pagan creed, Hon. Senator Joe Bench is as right as the rain which falls and blesses. Let it stand at that. Let there be a sheet anchor of sober, thoughtful, Christian opinion to guide us in the years to come, to warn us of the pitfalls of regimentation under Communism, to give Canadian private initiative its full swingthe same thing won many a battle in the two big wars-in very brief, let us be free.

"If Ottawa wanted to split this country into two hostile camps of farmer and nonfarmer, no better plan would be devised.

"The simple truth is that income taxes for the farmer and city man alike are dangerously too high. They are discouraging production both industrial and agricultural. But instead of facing realities the Western Producer merely sees in this situation an opportunity to foster class friction."

THE PUBLIC AND TRAFFIC SAFETY

If there was ever a need for unselfish devotion to a single cause it exists to-day in our quest for highway safety. Traffic safety is everybody's business, whether or not he owns or drives a motor vehicle. Traffic safety is, in its essence, a local problem-a problem for each village, town and city.

Ontario, with Canada's largest highway system and traffic, has not, comparatively speaking, Canada's worse traffic accident record. Nevertheless, the deaths, injuries and economic losses in Ontario from such accidents make staggering totals.

An entire population of good sized towns has been blotted out and a population the size of Hamilton has been injured since September of 1930 when compilation of comprehensive statistics was begun by the Ontario Department of Highways. In this 16-year period up to September, 1946, 9,550 people had been killed and 165,155 injured.

Nor is that the whole story. The Economist, a financial journal published in Ontario since 1897, says in its December issue that the total casualty claims incurred on Ontario motor vehicle accidents in the last 15year total nearly $78,000,000. Insurance experts believe that less than half of Ontario's motor vehicles are insured, consequently the real total of the financial losses is according to the Economist, close to $150,000,000 in the 15-year period. That is approximately equal to the total revenue of the Ontario government for one year.

Worse still, traffic accidents are climbing rapidly. In the first 9 months of 1946 traffic accidents increased 36 per cent. over the same period of 1945, totalling 11,866 with 453 deaths and 8,707 people injured.

What were all the W.P.T.B. snoopers doing in town on Friday? Looks to me like a lot of these birds are now following up infinitesimal and picayune complaints. Well, a job is a job. Taxes are taxes, too.

You have got to hand it to the boys on the town garbage truck. Even in the worst of weather they do an excellent job. Have never yet had a complaint, particularly as regards the banging and smashing of garbage containers, which always seems to be a bone of contention in the cities.

Orchids this week to Supt. Archie Rolland and the boys on the County snowplows and sanding outfits. All through the two weeks of sleet, snow and ice they keep the Park Road and entrance to West Lincoln Memorial hospital in most excellent shape for travel. Miss MacRobbie, her staff, and all the citizens say thanks.

All the improvements made in provincial highways, stricter law-enforcement and new cars on the road will not keep down the traffic deaths and injuries unless motorists and pedestrians alike use more care, common sense and courtesy in their driving and walking. Drivers must realize that driving is a privilege which can be forfeited for improper use. The average car weighs about 13 times as much as the average person, and with the added power of modern engines it can do tremendous damage before the driver can prevent it. For this reason pedestrians must avoid acting in ways which motorists cannot anticipate.

OVERHEATED HOUSES

One of the features of the winter season is the large number of persons who suffer from colds and grip, which in many cases keeps them away from work and sends many to bed. The production of industry and business is affected if many people have to stay out because of illness.

It would seem that one important cause Business Directory of such infections is the fact that many houses are heated to an excessive degree during a good part of the winter. It would appear that a good many people dry out the delicate membranes of their nose and throat by too great heat in their homes, or a lack of sufficient moisture, so that these organs do not resist infection as well as they should. If people can keep their homes nearer to a normal heat, it would seem a good health measure for the majority.

A hard cold is not to be taken lightly, and many of the people who are thus suffering would do better to go to bed for a day or two. They would probably recover sooner than if they kept on at their regular occupation while so suffering. If they are at home, some of them avoid the chance of giving an infection to those whom they meet. Some of course have duties so urgent that it seems necessary for them to keep at work. If their cold should develop into something worse, they might wish they had stayed out.

Many old people feel the cold quite severely, and they may need homes heated warmer than the average family will desire. Some of them could meet that difficulty by wearing warmer clothing. Anyway, overheating houses burns up a lot of fuel, and so it costs money.

WINTER FIELDS I love old winter fields-they seem to hold A sort of kinship to the wind and cold-The frozen furrows clogged with sodden haves, The stubble with a few thin scattered sheaves, A plow up-tilted . . . with a broken share (They just unhitched and left it sitting there). A few old twisted trees that sort of lean Down the steep edges of a small ravine, A few thin cattle waiting to be fed, Humped in the shelter of a broken shed; A rim of frost along the water's edge, Old nests revealed behind a tangled hedge. There is a strange affinity between Our homesick souls and fields of budding green; Something within us answers to the sound Of new life bursting through the quiet ground. And yet a frozen field where Winter dwells Sings in my heart like muted temple-bells.

DANCING MATILDAS

Sure you like to dress up . . . half th fun of going to a party is getting all slicked up, new hair do . . the right make-up . . glittering ear rings . . . nylons and open toed shoes. The that thrilling moment when your new dress is slipped over yourhead and falls into place with every line just right.

Well girls - you can go glamorous this hliday season for all you're worth The last restriction has been taken off women's clothing, you wallow in balloon sleeves, wide fancy belts with mile-wide skirts if you wish, the kind that swings out when you dance, making you feel like a veritable queen of the May.

Remember the old clothing restrictions introduced early in the war to conserve material and labour, restrictions that defined the length and sweep of dresses, eliminated boleros, capes, evening gowns and other types of clothing considered unessential? They took the shirrings out of our blouses, ruffles from our pinnies, pleats from our skirts, leaving us the skimpy clothing that stout women-and many not so stout-found so unsatisfactory and ugly.

No matching jackets, redingotes, boleros, capes or overskirts could use up material; dolman . . bell or leg-o-mutton sleeves were strictly taboo; vestees, scarves, even our frills and jabots upon which we relied for feminine allure all had to go; we wore our clothing without benefit of glamour during the war.

Now restrictions are off, we can have evening wraps and formals in all the colours of the rainbow-and how the girls are enjoying them. Shop windows are full of beautiful date dresses, such as girls who grew up during the war never saw. The colors are terrific. That new swish shade of petunia . . wine . . grape . . golden glow . . ultra violet . . colors and styles that fairly take your breath away. This holiday season will be packed with colour and trimmings that sparkle like the Sultan's

Only a bride and her attendants got away with long full dresses during the war, Joan and Betty and fluttery Anne had to content themselves with plain little numbers for special dates. But not now. Plain Janes and saucy Jills can knock themselves out trying to out-do each other in lovely dance frocks and every shop window is like a picture from Vogue . . and do the girls love it!

But just a word of caution here to dancing Matildas. Don't go off the deep end and buy yourself poor. There's a long road ahead yet before we are out of the woods, price controls still 'hold the line' against wild-eyed inflation and every girl in Canada-as well as her parents—is urged to do her share in keeping that precious line against the preasure of rising prices.

As Donald Gordon said in his last broadcast where he stressed need for public support-"We" should remember that it would not be difficult to break down price control if enough people lost interest in maintaining it . . . we now have an excellent opportunity to study the effects of the United States example before this country takes the same plunge . . by holding firmly to our present course for the time beingthen we can choose our own time for complete decontrol."-Edna

WINTER RAMPAGE!

When King Winter makes an all-out attack; man can do little but repair the damage as fast as possible: Recent power breaks in Niagara and Western Ontario areas were the direct result of unusual and severe storm conditions:

Because of the flexibility provided by its unified, province-wide organization; Hydro was able to rush emergency repair crews from other parts of Ontario to restore power: Every effort was directed to this end.

To all consumers who suffered in these storm areas, Hydro expresses its thanks and appreciation for their patience and understanding in a difficult and trying situation:

At all times Hydro safeguards service by endeavouring to locate lines free from trees and by tree trimming: Present storm damages illustrate the advisability of these methods;

During this winter period, storms and power shortage present great operating problems for Hydro: Your co-operation in the conserving of power will be of material assistance and much appreciated.

CHILDREN'S SAFETY

This is how Switzerland endeavors to protect its children.

In the cities all the roads that run past schools are closed to traffic during the times when children are on their way to or from them. A red signal board is placed in the middle of the road outside the school, and the thoroughfare is automatically closed. In Zurich one is at first surprised at the absence of hooting from cars. The reason is that the blowing of motor-car horns is forbidden. "You do no honk your horn in Zurich, you drive carefully istead,' advises the corporation.

JANUS FOR JANUARY

The month of January opens our calendar this year for the 21 hundredth time. It was in 153 B.C. that the first of January was proclaimed the official beginning of the new year, and naturally enough, since it was the festival of Janus, the Roman god who presided over all beginnings. MEN ARE MEN-BUT PUD REID STANDS OUT BY HIM-SELF-History tells us, away back to the Wars of The Roses, that he who Fighteth and giveth unto his people all that he has, shall live and be respected by his people. That is Harry Reid, the Village Clerk of Beamsville. His people, the citizens of Beamsville, gave him the Clerkship. He had the capabilities to handle the job. And they, the citizens, acknowledged the good fight that he had put up through long years as a hockey player, on several teams, to bring their little Village into the spotlight of the world. Thanks, Beamsvillians.

At the present time, PUD REID is the assistant coach of the PEACH KINGS. My only regret is that OLD POP McVICAR cannot throw over the boards every game, 13 PUD REIDS. Naturally he cannot do it because they do not raise them any more like that squarejawed kid from the eastern metropolis. Even his own son, Ralph, of the present PEACH KINGS is not one-quarter as good as he was. Never will be. He will not apply himself the same as the Old Man

Harry Reid came from good solid stock. True sportsmanship was born in him through both his father and his mother, the late William J. "Barb" and Mrs. Reid, His father was one of the most highly respected sportsmen that c in the Niagara Peninsula, because he was always fair and square. "Barb" Reid not only left a tradition behind him, but he left PUD. and he is not far off the traditional

Harry Reid, in my estimation, and I do not ask any reader to accept that as a final analysis, is the greatest hockey player that the FRUIT BELT has ever turned out, and he never knew what artificialice was until he became a real hockey player. Like all good big league ball players, who come off the sand lots, Pud came off the frog ponds and creeks that surround Beamsville. He learned the game the hard way. But there was a lot of stuff in that skull of his and he fortunately had a father who had a lot of stuff in his skull.

Brought into this world in July of 1896, by the late Dr. Frank Comfort, one of the finest rural medicos that ever existed, he immediately started to show prominence of wanting to go places and do

He showed so much prominence amongst all the other kids on the frog ponds and creeks as a potential bookey player that he attracted the attention of a man named Smith, a commercial traveller, who had a big stick in the ple behind the then Hamilton Rowing Club Juniors. That was back in 1913-14. Smith made arrangements for Pud to play for that great little junior team. He was a scintillating sensathat junior team.

Then in April of 1916 a guy over in London, England, named Vimy ___ George, said, Pud, I need you. And Pud threw the hockey stick Victory ___ and the skates in a corner and donned the King's uniform. In the winter of 1916-17, previous to his going overseas, he played with the Hamilton Intermediate hockey team in the O.H.A. At that time stationed in Hamilton was a military unit, principally from the North. They had a team in the Senior O.H.A. and they swept the works. As an actuality Veterans ___ they were the great Sudbury Wolves. Shorty Green, Red Green, Mc-Kinnon and all the rest of that gang. But old Pud and his lowly inter- St. John mediates licked the devil out of them in two straight games. Then over- Valiant ____ seas the half-pint goes. He was only skinning medical records by an eyelash insofar as height and weight went, but I assume that the M.O.'s were doing a little common sense conjecture in what was contained in that slim, wiry body. In those two years, 1920-21 and 1921-22, Carson Cooper hung up a goal scoring record in the O.H. centre iceman feeding him the puck, Pud Reid. In those two years that Cooper hung up world records that still stand, Pud Reid scored one goal. He was a team player, not an individualist.

As reported in this column last week, in 1922-23, Pud could not play with Hamilton Tigers because Grimsby claimed him under territorial rights. He got mad (ever see that square jaw stick out) and formed a Beamsville team. They did not win the group, neither did Grimsby, but brother, sister, mother and aunt, he turned this whole Fruit Belt upside down. Then the next year 1923-24 a few people in Grimsby woke up and decided that if we were going to keep the Arena going we had to have a hockey team. The first move that we made was to make sure that Pud was going to be on that team. But we made a fatal mistake. We put Dr. Bill Carson in centre ice and moved Pud to right wing. It did not work out. Old Gene Fraser of Niagara Falls, told me at the start of that season, "Bones, you have the greatest hockey team in Canada on paper, but you will not win the group." He was right. We did not. He did, with that bunch of old timers that he had lined up. We learned a lesson right then and there and it was soon rectified. Pud was moved back to centre ice. The Nottawasaga Flash, Artie Clarke was on left wing and the one and only George "Shorty" Horne was on the right flank. Wotta front line, wotta front line, wotta front line, and Old Pud in the middle. Wotta stick handler, wotta skater, Houidini in his palmiest days could not pull a rabbit out of that hat any slicker or snappier than Pud could handle that piece of black

That great season of 1924-25 when the name Peach Kings became a household word, not only in Canada but throughout two-thirds of the world, Old Pud was in centre ice, and Captain of the team. Pud was a great hockey player and that was a great team. As he has remarked to me several times, 'Bones, I could close my eyes and pass the puck either to my left or my right and I positively knew that either Artie or Shorty was there to take it and then go on."

That was Harry Pud Reid. One of the most unselfish hockey 4.25 p.m. players that ever lived, and one of the greatest. Pud never gave a hoot who got the goals as long as his team got them.

He was a team player. A morale builder. Manager Archie Dixon will tell you that. In order to have the public with you no matter what the line of sport is, you must give them something. Pud Reid had that something. That night in Kingston. The finals. A big sheet of ice. A beautiful sheet of ice. The game had been tough. Kingston had a real team. The middle of the second period. The flaxen-haired kid came from behind Buddy's net. Everything under control. Artie on the left, Shorty on the right. Brother, that front line swept down that 220 of ice with the speediest, smartest, snapplest passing attack that the world ever looked at, and scored. Three times they did it in as many minutes and four thousand good sportsmen an sportswomen of the City of Kingston arose in their seats an cheered their approval of that $ 8.45 beautiful piece of hockey playing. Old Pud was in the centre.

Just about this time the Pros. were starting their campaign of $18.45 raiding the country for players and naturally they picked off Pud. He played three years Pro, made good, decided it was about time to hang Pud Reid had, what very few players in Canada have, intestinal up his tack and he did. fortitude. And so did all the other old Peach Kings. I would like to have 13 men of the type of Pud, Lance Hayhoe, Burnside, Carson, Horne, Clarke, Buddy Fisher and Old Pop McVicar and I would make the Maple Leafs look like the second San Francisco earthquake. Pud, old boy, you have served your time. You still have a great bookey head on your shoulders, if they will only listen to it. I hope they do.

Further recommendations made by the survey committee were the need for an educational program to encourage buying by grade, and some form of licensing grower-truckers in order to check more closely on produce

Mr. Robinson spoke of the progress made by the association las the licensing of truckers, the authronto and the development of the he stated, are demanding recognigrowers' realization that grade and quality must be considered. Chief problems now facing the growers, the speaker continued, than 40 per cent of the qualified ducts through processing or other at the recent election Senator

The present import permit system, he stated, has been beneficial to Ontario growers in many respects, but with the general feeling across the border being against any concessions to their neighbors he urged that the growers work for an open declaration from the government on the trade question.

Horticultural work at the Ontario Agriculture College, Guelph, was discussed by Dr. J. S. Shoe maker of the college staff, who stated that, although their chief responsibility lay in teaching, with some 1,500 students on the campus, much research work was be ing carried on at the school, which was of importance to the commercial flower industry, to greenhouse men, as well as to fruit and vegetable growers. A new development at the college this year, the speaker stated, was the inauguration of a two-year graduate course leading to the master's degree.

In an instructive address on the process of cold storage, Dr. J. H L. Truscott, also of the college staff, said: "Cold storage cannot work miracles. All it can do is take the fruit in whatever condition you bring it, and temporarily postpone the process of dissolution. Mistakes made in the orchard or in the handling of the fruit cannot be corrected, nor does it take the place of an adequate spray pro-

Explaining that fruit and vegetables in their raw state were living organisms with physical functions requiring air to breathe as well as moisture, the speaker stated that any physical cause of an increase in breathing rate, such as bruising or rough handling, speeded up the consumption of fruit sugar, and consequently shortened the life of the fruit. There is only one weapon, he said, which will control or slow up this process of deterioration, and that is the partial removal of heat. By removing heat, he said, the destructive agency of aging is slowed up, also thousands of micro-organisms present on the fruit or vegetable are slowed down in their growth and feeding rates, and chemical changes occur much more slowly, thus prolonging the life of the product.

In the storage process, Mr. Truscott explained, proper control of temperature is of great importance, as a variation of several degrees from the optimum temperature may cause the development of physiological disorders and loss of the fruit. For good results the exact temperature must be learned and maintained, not only for each fruit and vegetable but also for each particular variety, as great variations are found in their requirements. Humidity was also stressed as an important factor in successful storage, as well as the free circulation of air.

Resolutions passed by the convention included the following: That a request be made to the government for the continuance of the farm service camps next summer, the association requesting that two men be named from each camp committee to serve as a delegation to interview the government regarding this problem.

That the Federation of Agriculture again urgently request the horticulture council to ask for federal marketing legislation.

That the Federation recommend that a royal committee, national in character, be set up to investigate and analyze the rail situation, and formulate a proper policy, fair to all types of transportation.

That inspection be made available on the Hamilton market for growers west of the inspection center on the Elizabeth way, near highway 20, and that the closed area be extended to the city of Ha-

Pointing to the fact that less voters cast ballots in St. Catharines outlets, and the highly important Bench declared this was not the kind of vigilance which would preserve our liberties.

"You may be completely sure that the minority of our electorate who support the Communist doctrines exercised their franchise to the fullest possible degree."

When people woke up to the situation, it might be "too late," he said. "There may then no longer be free elections. Any one who has followed the press reports of the Russian espionage activities at Ottawa and elsewhere in Canada cannot fail to appreciate that this country definitely is on the list of those set apart for proposed communistic domination."

The last act of the Pro. boys on leaving Grimsby was enacted at the C.N.R. station when they unharnessed Henry Hillier's horse from the express dray and turned it loose. Three nights previous to their leaving town the two teams staged an exhibition game which was thriller from beginning to end and gave the large crowd present plenty of cold chills. Sheiks took the Quebecers into camp by a 4-2 score.

At this time it was announced that the then thirty year colors of red and black were being changed to red and white. White bodied jerseys with red trimmings and a big black "G" on the front. "Buddy' Fisher was the cause of this change for optical reasons.

"Uncle Bill" Fry had just retired from the presidency of the O.H.A. and Bill Easson of Stratford elected in his stead.

Canadiens won their opening game in the N.H.L. by 7-1 from Toronto St. Pats.

BEAMSVILLE IS NOW IN THE FRUIT BELT LEAGUE

The weekly session of the Fruit Belt League featured three games at Marr's Ice Palace. Beamsville playing their first game after taking over Burlington's place in the league, dropped a four to three decision to Tom Collins' Winona outfit. Winona's win came in the closing minutes of the game.

Goal getters for Winona were: Mason, Collins (2), and Coughey. Beamsville: Clark, Geddes and Konkle.

Stoney Creek swamped the Fulton hay kickers, taking the decision by an eight to two count. Nicol scored both goals for the Fulton guys, while Cooper and Sachrider bingoed twice for the Creekers. Fibbs, McDougall, Blanchard and French counted the other four goals. Five penalties were handed out by Ref Father B. A. O'Donnell.

The best game of the night was the contest between the Mount Hope team and the local Grimsby Legion outfit. The final score saw the teams deadlocked with three goals apiece. Taxi man Red Mason notched two of Grimsby's goals, while Doug Whitfield scored the third. Dickerson with two paced the Mount Hope crew, Hannah getting the other tally. Father B. A. O'Donnell, assisted by Normie Warner did the officiating at all three contests.

There's always room at the topfor price advances.
